Victims of Clarendon Wreck
Score in Damage Suits.

SPECIAL JURY TO TRY CASE

Charles D. Semmes, prominent in society and secret order circles, dies—Order of Rechabites will hold a Temperance Rally—Alexandria Knights going to Baltimore.

WASHINGTON HERALD BUREAU, (Bell Telephone 61.) 29 King Street.

Alexandria, Va., Oct. 24.—After hearing argument from several opposing attorneys, Judge J. B. T. Thompson, in the Circuit Court for Alexandria County, today ruled to require a trial of the damage suits against the Washington, Arlington and Falls Church Railway Company at a special term of court after the third Monday in November. The decision, which marked a victory for the numerous plaintiffs, affects fifty or sixty cases, involving an aggregate of $123,000, claimed as damages for personal injuries sustained in the wreck on the line of the defendant company in last July, at Clarendon.

One of the principal questions passed upon in the decision was as to whether or not the receiver for the company should be made a party to the suits, this being decided in the negative. Attorneys Barbour and Nicol addressed the court in behalf of the defense, and numerous attorneys took part in the proceedings in the interest of the plaintiffs. A special jury will be called, and it is expected that the trial of the cases will occupy the attention of the court for many days.

Death of Charles D. Semmes.

Charles D. Semmes, son of the late Douglas Semmes, died this afternoon, after a brief illness, at the Alexandria Hospital. Mr. Semmes was apparently in his usual health yesterday morning, but in the evening became suddenly ill and was removed to the hospital. He was a native of this city, and had lived here all of his life. Mr. Semmes was connected with many local, social, and fraternal organizations. He was a member of the Alexandria Washington Lodge of Masons and of Mount Vernon Chapter, Royal Arch Masons. He was also a member of the Bachelor Club, the Relief Hook and Ladder Company, and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen. For many years he had been employed as a baggage master on the Southern Railway. One brother, Rev. Thomas Semmes, rector of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, Richmond, survives him. The remains will be placed in the Masonic Temple and the funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock from old Christ Church. The remains will be interred in the family burial ground here. Rev. William J. Morton, rector of Christ Church, will conduct the services.

A general temperance rally will be held in the First Baptist Church to-morrow evening at 7:30 o'clock under the auspices of the High Tent, Independent Order of Rechabites of North America. High Tent Chief Ruler N. Elwyn Vawter will preside. Addresses will be delivered by the high tent ruler and other members of the order. Invitations to attend have been extended to several of the public officials. A large delegation of members of the order from Washington will attend. It is expected that about 200 persons will be in the party. The object of the gathering is to awaken and stimulate general interest in the temperance cause. Perseverance Tent, the local branch of the organization, will appear in a body.

A delegation of about fifty members of Fitzgerald Council, Knights of Columbus, will go to Baltimore next Sunday to witness special degree work of the order there.

Rev. Joseph R. Sevier, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, and A. J. Usher have gone to Clarksburg, W. Va., to attend the annual session of the Synod of Virginia, which convened to-day in the First Presbyterian Church of that place.

Dr. Alexander Murray, of the Medical Corps of the United States army, who has been detailed as executive officer at the Ancon Hospital, Canal Zone, is in this city on a visit to relatives.

Dr. S. Harrison Smith, who is a member of the medical staff of the Ancon Hospital, has returned from his vacation.

Upper Marlboro, Md., Oct. 24.—The official result of the registration in Prince George's County, just completed, shows 91 new voters. The 361 new voters makes a total registration of 7,367. These figures represent the gross gain, the number of voters stricken off at the recent registration not being considered. It is probable that at least 500 names were cut off the books.

WIFE MURDERER KILLS SELF.

Makes Will and Informs Son of His Intention.

Special to The Washington Herald, Asheville, N. C., Oct. 24.—After having executed his will, disposing of his property, and telling his son where to look the following day for his dead body, Ransom Goodwin, aged seventy-six, of Johnson County, Ohio, who last August murdered his wife in a cold blooded manner, shot himself through the heart, death following instantly.

At the place designated Goodwin's son found his father's body. Ransom had made two previous attempts to kill himself. He had been hunted by officers since the night he murdered his wife, and had been hiding in the woods. Once when the officers were hot on his trail, he tried to kill himself with his gun, and another attempt was made by cutting his throat when he learned that the governor had offered a reward for his capture.

ENGLISH DOGS IN THE HUNT

Many Visitors Attend Middlesex Hunt Club Meet in Virginia.

Leesburg, Va., Oct. 24.—The Middlesex Hunt Club, of Massachusetts, was out today with thirty well-trained couples of English hounds. Ned Cortworth, of England, was huntsman; A. Henry Higginson, acting as master of hounds. The run, which began at Oaklands, the estate of W. C. Rustie, was one of the shortest since the English dogs have been in Virginia. There were many visitors from the surrounding counties to view the start. The hounds worked well.

A trail was struck after two miles had been traversed, which was followed until lost. Another scent was picked up a little later, the quarry being followed to cover.

The hounds made a wide circuit over a large section of country, the dogs being followed by a large field of hunters. The hunt led over and around many fences and ditches, but the riding for the most part was good.

Higginson did some good riding on a very difficult mount. Sears, of Boston, who was injured in the last hunt, when his mount fell in taking a fence, breaking his neck and imprisoning his rider, is improving. Henry Fairfax, D. B. Tennant, George Eastis, W. C. Eastis, A. M. Chickster, and others followed the hounds. The next run will be on Friday at Selma.

DR. GILLETTE GUILTY

Convicted of Perjury During Insurance Disclosures.

RECOMMENDED FOR CLEMENCY

Vice President of Mutual Life Hears Verdict Without Sign of Emotion. Jury Out an Hour and a Half—Son and Daughter at Physician's Side. With Mutual Thirty-six Years.

New York, Oct. 24.—Dr. Walter R. Gillette, who was connected with the Mutual Life Insurance Company for thirty-six years and who was vice president when he retired about a year ago, after the insurance disclosures, was convicted this evening of perjury for having sworn falsely before the grand jury.

The jury was out an hour and a half. The trial lasted about four days. Dr. Gillette took the verdict without any sign of emotion. His daughter and a son sat with him. He said he was sixty-seven years of age. Upon request of Justice Hatch, sentence was put over until Monday, and Dr. Gillette was taken over the Bridge of Signs to the Tombs. Justice Hatch said he would argue a motion on Monday for a certificate of reasonable doubt. The penalty for perjury is ten years, but the jury made recommendation for mercy.

Dr. Gillette testified before the grand jury that an account at the Dobbs Ferry Bank, of which Andrew C. Fields was president, was his personal account. Before Dr. Gillette began his testimony before the grand jury, Fields had made a confession to Mr. Jerome, who soon trapped Dr. Gillette into admitting that the account was one of the Mutual's "special" accounts.

WANTS NEW BALLOT LAW.

Republican Candidate for Governor Speaks at Hyattsville.

Special to The Washington Herald, Hyattsville, Oct. 24.—George R. Galtner, candidate for governor, was the principal speaker at a largely attended Republican meeting held in Masonic Hall here to-night. Mr. Galtner, accompanied by Congressman Sydney E. Mudd and some of the county candidates, was late in reaching Hyattsville. A large gathering of prominent Republicans met the distinguished visitors at the station and escorted them to the hall.

There was a liberal display of fireworks and the stage in the hall was lighted with numerous Japanese lanterns. Every seat in the auditorium was filled and standing room in the rear was at a premium.

The Republican candidate for governor declared that the one great issue in the campaign was the right of the American citizen, as a citizen of the State of Maryland, to have his ballot counted as cast. He declared that the election law of 1885, enacted by a Republican legislature, was as fair a law as was ever given to the State, and declared that if the Republican party was successful this fall the main features of that law would be re-enacted.

FREDERICK'S BIGGEST DAY.

Pickpockets Invade Fair, Sharing Interest with Exhibits.

Special to The Washington Herald, Frederick, Md., Oct. 24.—A crowd, estimated at more than 40,000 people, attended the big day at the Frederick County fair to-day. Not for years has the attendance reached this high-water mark, and to-night the directors are congratulating themselves upon the greatest financial success in the history of the Agricultural Society.

In spite of the fact that forty special policemen mingled with the crowd, pickpockets got in their work during the day. The heaviest haul was made by a well-dressed stranger, apparently thirty years of age, who relieved Melville E. Hill, president of the Frederick Town Savings Institution, of a diamond shirt button, valued at $300.

Mr. Hill discovered the loss of his button in time to seize the thief, and, holding him until the arrival of a policeman, had the man arrested. The stolen button was later held in $1,000 bail for his appearance at the next term of the Frederick County Court.

Death of Rudolph Stehl.

Baltimore, Oct. 24.—Rudolph Stehl, general manager of the William Wilkens Company, of this city, died yesterday at his residence, after a two-day illness of Stokes-Adams disease, a rare form of heart trouble. ## CANDIDATES AT ANNAPOLIS.

Campaign's Only Meeting in Anne Arundel.

Special to The Washington Herald, Annapolis, Md., Oct. 24.—The Democratic State candidates, together with United States Senator Isidor Rayner, addressed a gathering of nearly one thousand Democrats at the Colonial Theater here to-night. It was the single meeting of the campaign in Anne Arundel County.

Senator Rayner discussed largely national issues, touching upon the Constitution and the President's policies toward centralization. Dr. Joshua W. Hering, candidate for State controller; Isaac Lohr Straus, candidate for attorney general, and Caleb C. Magruder, candidate for clerk to the Court of Appeals, dwelt principally upon the question of negro suffrage, and the fact that the Republican party in Maryland is made of negro non-taxpaying citizens.

Santa Cruz, Mexico, Oct. 24.—Fighting of the most serious nature has occurred between Chinese and English sailors from the ship Woolwick and there is danger of further troubles. emergency. It is contended that he regarded these reports as mere rumors, and did not give them consideration, and, furthermore, that he did not believe that Japan was taking any steps which could be construed as an indication of hostility toward the United States government, or suspicion of its purposes.

This representation of the President's attitude is somewhat of a rebuke to those officers who laid much stress on the reports from confidential agents of the government, and who believed that these reports had great influence in determining the President to send the fleet to the Pacific. However, the belief in military and naval circles that the transfer of the fleet was a direct result of the anti-American agitation in Japan, is so strongly grounded that it cannot be easily removed.

In some way a full report of the President's speech at Vicksburg was not sent out to the press of the country. That part of it concerning the cruise of the fleet is interesting enough, however, to be set out here. The President said that no man wanted to see his own son a bully, but he did want to have him able to hold his own, "to refuse to inflict injustice on the weak, and to refuse to endure injustice on the part of the strong." Continuing, he said:

Believes in Monroe Doctrine.

"I want to see the United States ever take and keep precisely that attitude in international affairs. I trust that this nation will never deal unjustly with any other nation, but I hope that it will be in such shape that it can always rely upon its own might to protect it from injustice in return."

"We are a long way yet from the millennium, and, therefore, there is need that we shall be able to rely not only upon being right, but upon having the power to make our right good. Above all, gentlemen, I trust that this nation will never put itself in the position of bluffing, and, if called upon, of being unable to make good. I hope that we will stand for certain great policies; that we will stand for the Monroe doctrine; that we will police and protect the Panama Canal."

"I want to see us do that, but I had a great deal rather that we announce now that we abandon both purposes, than that we announce we intend to do both, but fail to provide ourselves with the means of doing them. Therefore, I want you to bear right, but upon having the power to make our right good. Above all, gentlemen, I trust that this nation will never put itself in the position of bluffing, and, if called upon, of being unable to make good. I hope that we will stand for certain great policies; that we will stand for the Monroe doctrine; that we will police and protect the Panama Canal."

Wants Navy Strengthened.

"Now, I ask that the legislative branch of the government provide enough money to keep the navy built up, and have all the powder and coal necessary for the navy to use."

"Just this moment the fleet is getting ready to go to the Pacific. Our home waters are in the Pacific just as much as in the Atlantic. Somebody objected the other day on the ground that I would have to exceed the appropriation for coal if I sent the navy to the Pacific. That is an error. We have got enough coal to send the battle ships to the Pacific, but if there is any failure in the appropriation, they cannot come back to the Atlantic. I mentioned that fact the other day to a gentleman who was advancing the argument as a reason why they should not leave the Atlantic."

"Gentlemen, our nation has a wonderful future. We are bounded by two great oceans. We can realize our future only upon condition that we do what I know we will do; that we conduct our policies as among ourselves in accordance with the immutable laws of righteousness, trying to get for each man, and to exact from each man, an even justice—no more and no less."

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

Bulletin.

The official announcement of the opening of the new Union Station at Washington is made as follows:

OPENING OF THE UNION STATION OF THE WASHINGTON TERMINAL COMPANY.

The new Union Station of the Washington Terminal Company will be placed in service on Sunday, October 27, 1907.

On that date all passenger trains of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, both through and local, will enter and depart from the new station, and the present station of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, at New Jersey avenue and C street, will be closed to traffic.

On November 17 the passenger trains of the Pennsylvania Railroad (Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington Railroad), the Washington Southern Railway, the Southern Railway, the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, and the Seaboard Air Line Railway will run into and depart from the new Union Station, and the present station, at Sixth and B streets, will be discontinued.

The station building, as far as the interior arrangements are concerned, is not finished to that degree of completeness in which the Washington Terminal Company has endeavored and hoped to present it to the use of the public, and for some time at least, on account of the enforced continuation of the work of fitting out the interior, the traveling public will not be able to enjoy the full benefit of its conveniences.

This condition is due entirely to the fact that in order to complete the grading of the ground adjacent to the station, according to the Act of Congress creating the station, the present tracks of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad must be removed, and to the further fact that in order to push to completion the elevated structure carrying the tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad, the surface tracks on a portion of Maryland avenue and on Sixth street leading into the present Pennsylvania Station must be abandoned, thereby cutting off all track connection with the Sixth and B streets station. All track connections of the various railroad lines with the Union Station are complete, and the eastern end of the Union Station will be fully equipped for business on the specified dates.

In the meantime the work on the main portion of the new station will be forced forward with all possible rapidity, and it is confidently expected that the entire structure will be completely finished by the end of the present year.

THE WASHINGTON TERMINAL COMPANY.

G. W. MARTIN, Superintendent.

Detailed announcements relative to the new station will be published by the Pennsylvania Railroad at a later date.
